VI- Reading Comprehension & Summary Making (110 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

The most precious fluid on earth is not oil, but water. There are few challenges as important as conserving the world's usable water and supplying clean drinking water and water for irrigation to those who need it. Yet this work is not getting done. Humans are consuming the earth's store of usable water at a rate that will soon threaten our food supply. Poor water management already kills millions of people a year and condemns hundreds of millions to hunger.

Providing poor areas with drinking water and sanitation, for example, is easy to do and a cost-effective way to prevent deaths and disease. There is now an opportunity for progress. More than 100 water ministers from around the world, along with thousands of water experts from villagers to scientists, have gathered in the Netherlands. The conference will be useful if it can persuade governments and international banks to pay more attention to conservation and fair distribution of water.

In 1980, the U.N. set a goal of safe drinking water for all by 1990. Because of international concern, about two billion new people received clean drinking water over the subsequent 14 years. A new commitment is urgently needed to spread these health gains, help poor farmers and conserve the world's precious supply of usable water.

Most of us have plenty of water for our daily needs, maybe even an excess as is the case in the Netherlands at the moment with heavy rainfalls. Regardless of our seeming abundance of this resource, it is still important to use water carefully. You can save water in your daily life and be an example for others of good water stewardship by washing dishes by hand and not allowing the water to run while rinsing. Fill one sink with wash water and the other (or a plastic tub) with rinse water.

You can also soak pots and pans instead of letting the water run while you scrape the dishes clean. In addition, try to install an instant water heater near your kitchen sink so you don't have to run the water while it heats up. This also reduces energy costs. Furthermore, by insulating your water pipes. You'll get hot water faster plus you avoid wasting water while it heats up. Moreover, when buying new appliances such as a washing machine, consider those that offer cycle and load size adjustments. They're more water and energy efficient. Finally, wash your fruits and vegetables in a pan of water instead of running water from the tap, and reuse it to water houseplants.

A) From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (5x10=50 Marks)

1. The author's main purpose in writing this passage is to ……..

a. entertain readers and make them laugh b. persuade readers about water's importance
c. inform people about the poor d. tell a story about water

2. The word consuming in line 4 means:

a. using b. saving c. supplying d. receiving

3. The word precious in line 16 is opposite to:

a. useless b. clean c. usable d. poor

KuwaitTeacher.Com

4. The word it in the second paragraph refers to:

a. drinking water b. the conference c. opportunity d. disease

5. The main idea of paragraph 2 is ……

a. There should be fair distribution of water. b. Water is rare in rich countries

c. Sea water can be changed into fresh water d. There is no opportunity for progress

B) Answer the following questions: (4X 15 = 60 Marks)

5. What are the challenges that face the world as far as the water is concerned?

Humans are consuming the earth's store of usable water at a rate that will soon threaten our food supply. Poor water management already kills millions of people a year and condemns hundreds of millions to hunger.

6. What role did the UN play in 1980 concerning the problem of water?

In 1980, the U.N. set a goal of safe drinking water for all by 1990.

7. There should be an urgent worldwide commitment. Give reasons.

A new commitment is urgently needed to spread these health gains, help poor farmers and conserve the world's precious supply of usable water.

8. Why do people need usable water?

They need usable water for domestic use, drinking, cooking, washing, and bathing. They need it for farming.

VII- Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

It can be hard for some animals to find food during winter. They get through it in many ways. Birds and butterflies fly to a place with nice weather. Then they come home in the spring. We call this migration. Another way to avoid the cold is to sleep through it. Many animals hide during the winter. They save their energy. They do not eat. They do this until food returns. We call this hibernation. Some animals store food in their homes. They live on what they saved in the summer and fall. Other animals adapt themselves to the weather. They do not hide. They must survive. Sometimes nature helps them out. Some animals grow thicker coats in the winter. Other animals change color. The arctic fox is brown in the summer. His coat turns white in the winter.

In four sentences of your own, summarize the above passage in answer to this question:

How do animals and birds survive the cold winter?

Some animals and birds migrate to survive the cold winter. Others don't eat and hibernate to save energy. Some animals store food in their habitats and live on what is saved. Finally, some animals have the instinct to adapt themselves either by their thick coats on their backs or by changing their colour.

VI. Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Pollution has been defined as the addition of any substance or form of energy to the environment at a rate faster than the environment can accommodate its dispersion, breakdown, recycling or storage in some harmless form. In simpler terms, pollution means the poisoning of the environment by man.

Pollution has accompanied mankind ever since groups of people settled down in one place for a long time. It was not a serious problem during primitive times when there was more than ample space available for each individual or group. As the human population boomed, pollution became a major problem and has remained as such ever since.

The rapid advancement of technology and industrialization today is something that man can be proud of. However, it has brought along with it many undesirable results, one of which is the pollution of our environment. Humanity today is threatened by the dangers of air, water, land and noise pollution.

Man has reached the moon and invented supersonic crafts that can travel faster than the speed of sound. However, these inventions emit pollutants which contribute to the depletion of the ozone layer. This depletion of ozone, which absorbs the harmful rays of the sun and prevents them from reaching the Earth, will have drastic effects on all living things. It will lead to a rise in the number of people suffering from skin cancer. Water pollution has become widespread too. Toxic waste has found its way into our lakes, streams, rivers and oceans. This waste is released by factories and sea-going vessels. Spillage of oil by tankers and during the recent Gulf War has caused irreparable damage to marine life. Thousands of sea animals have died or were poisoned by the pollutants in their natural habitat. As such, it is dangerous for humans to consume sea food caught in polluted waters.

We are often faced with noises from construction sites, jet planes and traffic jam. We may be unaware of it but noise pollution has been attributed to causing a loss of hearing, mental disturbances and poor performance at work. To control environmental pollution, substances which are hazardous and can destroy life must not be allowed to escape into the environment. This calls for united decision-making among world leaders and a public awareness of the dangers of pollution.

A-Choose the most suitable answer from a,b.c. and d : (5X10 =50 Marks)

1- During primitive times, pollution was not a real problem because…

(a) societies used modern ways to stop it (b) there were so many pollutants
(c) there was enough space for people (d) societies used to berry pollutants

2- In paragraph four the word "drastic " is closest in meaning to:

(a) healthy (b) harsh (c) petty (d) preferable

3- The underlined pronoun "their" in paragraph four refers to

(a) pollutants (b) animals (c) oceans (d) tankers

4- We can control pollution if we……..chemicals from reaching the environment.

(a) help (b) allow (c) neglect (d) prevent

KuwaitTeacher.Com

5- This passage considered pollution ……..

(a) a problem that we must control and fight

(b) an inevitable environmental problem

(c) a simple problem that can be solved easily

(d) a problem that no longer exists

B-Answer the following questions (4X15 =60 Marks)

6- In your own words, explain what pollution is.

Pollution refers to any substance that affects the environment negatively. Anything that affects air, water, soil and noise negatively is known as pollution.

7- What are the different forms of pollution?

They are air, water, land and noise pollution.

8- What is the effect of the spillage of oil during the Gulf War?

Spillage of oil by tankers and during the recent Gulf War has caused irreparable damage to marine life. Thousands of sea animals have died or were poisoned by the pollutants in their natural habitat.

9- What are the effects of noise pollution?

noise pollution has been attributed to causing a loss of hearing, mental disturbances and poor performance at work.

Reading Comprehension (110 marks)

A. Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Everyone has a favourite attraction at an amusement park, and I am no different. However, unlike most people who seem to prefer roller coasters, my favourite ride is a little gentler. Every time I go to Coney Island or the Santa Monica Pier, I absolutely have to ride the Ferris wheel. The Ferris wheel is quite complex. Riding it is easy, but how it works is complicated. A series of carts are attached to a wheel, which is attached to a rim. That rim rotates vertically around an axis, and gravity keeps the carts upright. As simple as the ride seems, only advanced engineers can make safe and fun Ferris wheels.

While the Ferris wheel is not as thrilling as a roller coaster, it is still very exciting. Nevertheless, I don't seek Ferris wheels out because of their excitement. Rather, I find them very relaxing. At the top of the Ferris wheel, you get beautiful sights of the park. You also get a sense of calm that you don't get in the hustle and bustle of the park below. Additionally, Ferris wheels are also gorgeous to look at when they are lit up at night. In fact, the original Ferris wheel was designed as much to be seen as to be ridden.

The first Ferris wheel was made by and named after George Washington Gale Ferris, Jr. He designed it for the Chicago World's Fair in 1893. It was the tallest attraction there, standing 264 feet high. However, visitors to the fair were impressed by the size of the ride as well as the mechanics of it. In 1893, anything that was not turned by hand was considered a sight to see. And the wheel, which was a machine, was truly incredible to see.

Ferris wheel technology has only improved since then. Most of today's Ferris wheels are much larger than that first one. Today, the Ferris wheel is the most common amusement park ride. But that does not mean you should take them for granted. Instead, be thankful for Ferris' invention. The next time you're at an amusement park, don't just look up at the impressive wheel in the sky on your way to a newer attraction. Take it for a spin!

A-From a, b, c and d choose the correct answer: (5 x 10 =50 Marks)

VII- Summary Making

(60 Marks) Read the following passage carefully, then answer the question below:

Google was the first search engine that began considering links. Links are those blue underlined words that take you to other pages when you click on them. Google's search results were much better than their rivals. It wasn't just the great search results that led to Google becoming so well liked. It also had to do with the way that they presented their product. Google's homepage was, and still, clean. There's nothing but the logo, the search box, and a few links. These days Google has its hands in everything from self-driving cars to helping humans live longer. Though they have many other popular products, they will always be best known for their search engine. The Google search engine has changed our lives and our language. It is a standing example that one good idea can change the world.

In FOUR sentences, summarise and paraphrase the previous passage in answer to the following question: (4X15=60M)

Why has Google search engine become so popular?

Google was the first and the best search engine and continues to be so. Their results are better than other search engines. You can find whatever you want in all life fields. It has great impacts on our language and our life.
