Ali loses so many things that he is sure that they just get up and walk away. Ali is jealous of people who are so orderly that they never lose anything. Pens and pencils are never there when he needs them.

The situation was getting so awful that he determined to do something about it. Ali's sister, Mona, attempted to help him. Consequently, she bought him a large cupboard. It has a number of shelves. Ali then placed ten boxes on them. He put a label on each box: one he labelled "Pens and Pencils," another he labelled "Tools," another "Needles and Pins." He also got an address book and put it in the corner of the cupboard. Before this, he always lost all the addresses and phone numbers he needed.

Now Ali felt very proud of himself, but things did not change. Pens and other things began to disappear again. There was only one solution. He locked the cupboard and put the key on top of it. The cupboard was always locked, and he was the only one who knew where the key was. Then, he lost it.

Dear Mona,

I want to write to you about the book I bought at the book fair. It's about birds. I wanted to know more information about different kinds of birds. My book was about "The Bee Hummingbird". The bee hummingbird is the smallest bird in the world. This bird comes from Cuba. It is an island near America. All hummingbirds are small, but this one is tiny. It is as long as your little finger. It is called a bee hummingbird because it is not much bigger than a bee. Hummingbirds are different from other birds in the way they fly. They move their wings so fast that you can't see them. Looking forward for your next e-mail.
