VI- Reading Comprehension: (30 Marks)

30

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Rwanda, an African country, is witnessing major progress in the public health . This is the case of a 2-year-old girl named Ghislane. The little girl had been suffering from fever for several days. A nurse at the village healthcare centre in Rwanda told Ghislane's mother that she had malaria; a disease which is caused by mosquitoes. There was nothing the doctors could do, so they ordered the nurse to call an ambulance. But by the time Ghislane reached the main hospital, she stopped moving. Ghislane's mother said: "We arrived too late." She thought there was no hope for her daughter. The doctors said she needed a blood transfusion as the last resort.

Immediately, a hospital nurse typed a message on his smartphone. It was a request for two bags of blood. It was urgent. Normally, he would have sent a car and a driver to get the blood from a blood bank. This would take 3 hours. But this time, he tried something new. His phone received a confirmation message that the blood was on its way, and it would be delivered soon.

In six minutes, the sound of a drone - a small like airplane - could be heard above the hospital. As it passed over the laboratory, the drone dropped a red box attached to a parachute. Inside the box were two bags of blood, still cold from refrigeration. A nurse rushed the red box to the emergency room. Within minutes, it was injected into Ghislane's body, and the girl opened her eyes.

In parts of rural Africa, many people die from simple diseases due to shortage of essential medicines. This problem was the inspiration for an American company. In March 2016, the American company in collaboration with the government of Rwanda launched the world's first drone delivery service. The drones carry vital medical supplies to hospitals by air. The company has delivered more than 7,000 units of blood products to 21 hospitals in the country.

These electric drones can fly 160 km on one charge. The drones can carry 2 kilos of blood products and reach more than half of Rwanda. Before launching a drone, a technician enters its destination on a tablet. The whole process takes about a minute. The drone flies using GPS. Once it gets near the hospital, it sends a text message announcing the exact arrival time. Then it slows down, drops its package, and goes back to its home base .

VII - Summary Making (8 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Young children love listening to stories and retelling them. Storytelling has many benefits for children. First, it fosters creative thinking which means coming up with new ideas. Besides, storytelling helps children develop language skills such as listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Furthermore, children can learn presentation skills when telling stories. This will help them attract the interest of the audience by the tone of their voice and gestures. Finally, encouraging children to tell stories helps them remember things. When children retell stories, they acquire vocabulary and expressions which enable them to write their own stories.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the previous passage in answer to the following question: (8 Marks)

What are the benefits of storytelling for children?

The answer should include the following FOUR ideas:

- Fostering creative thinking./ Coming up with new ideas.
- Developing language skills.
- Learning presentation skills./Attracting the interest of the audience.
- Remembering things./Acquiring vocabulary and expressions.
