On the 14th December, something strange happened to the owner of an old Honda car! An accident, that he would not have imagined even in his dreams, happened to him. On a fine Monday morning, he was on his way to office. While waiting at the traffic light of the city centre, a brick fell from the top of a building site and hit his car's window. The owner of the car, Khaled, got shocked and couldn't think of anything.

Khaled didn't know first what had happened. The glass broke immediately and spilled on the nearby bikers too. He escaped with little wounds on his face and fortunately no one else was hurt. Traffic stopped and people around stopped to watch the accident.

When he recalled himself, he got out of the car and called the police. Meanwhile, the head engineer at the building site had also come. The engineer took the responsibility for the accident and apologised for what had happened. But Khaled was too angry, as he argued that the brick could have harmed him badly. He was determined to file a case against the construction company.

The engineer, along with manager, supervisor, and other workers gathered around the car owner to check his wounds. They calmed him down. The engineer requested Khaled not to take any serious action and also promised him to settle the matter peacefully.
