Say It Short: The Power of Abbreviations

a. Read and Learn

- Abbreviations are short forms of words or phrases that we use to make speaking and writing easier.
- We often use them in texting, school, signs, and daily life.

Examples:

Term	Full Form
TV	Television
Info	Information
ID	Identification
KUNA	Kuwait News Agency

b. Match each abbreviation with its correct full form.

Short Form		Full Form
1. PIN	4	A. Chief Executive Officer
2. KISR	1	B. Personal Identification Number
3. NASA	2	C. Kuwait Institute for Scientific Research
4. CEO	3	D. National Aeronautics and Space Administration

c. Rewrite the following short text using suitable abbreviations.

Try to keep the meaning clear and natural.

'Please be at the Kuwait International Airport by 6:45 p.m. Your flight information and boarding pass will require your identification number.'

Please be at Kuwait International Airport by 6:45 p.m. Your flight info and boarding pass will require your ID.

d. Write two sentences using common abbreviations you've learned.

Example: Please enter your PIN on the screen after selecting No. 2 from the menu.

3 Reading Comprehension

A: Read the following passage then answer the questions that follow.

Last weekend, Omar and his family decided to go on a trip to the mountains to escape the busy life of the city. They wanted to relax, breathe fresh air, and enjoy the beauty of nature.

Early in the morning, they carefully packed everything they might need: sandwiches, plenty of water, warm jackets, and a camera to capture special moments. The mountains were high, and some parts were steep and challenging, but the amazing views made the hard work worth it.

When they finally reached the highest point, they rested and had a picnic while enjoying the breathtaking view. Omar felt very proud because he had completed his first mountain hike. He said it was one of the most unforgettable experiences of his life.

1. The writer's main purpose is to:

- describe a difficult trip
- explain how to pack for a trip
- share a personal experience
- give advice about camping

2. The pronoun "it" refers to:

- a picnic
- the highest point
- his first mountain hike
- the breathtaking view

4 Looking Back, Moving Forward

- What can I do to improve my reading skills ?
